

Malachi 3:6 For I am the LORD, I change not; therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.
Hebrews 13:8* Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

Change is inevitable, BUT Without the Lord, it is not necessarily desirable.

As mans knowledge increases, so do the new inventions which trigger change, but the wisdom does not always increase with the knowledge.

Up until the Roman Empire, the mode of transportation had not changed all that much, but with the Romans, came roads, these were roads made so that the Empire could move armies and equipment across the countries they concurred without the problem of being at the mercy of the weather.

Now this I can relate to, as when I was a youngster back in the 1940s, our roads were just dirt roads, mostly clay. When the weather was dry, you could move along pretty good, but let it rain for a few days, it was like trying to drive on axle grease. Then in the later 40s, they started to put gravel on top of the roads. Man, you could drive without sliding off the road, we thought this was better than sliced bread (which hadn't been invented yet).

One of the biggest changes that has effected the entire world, is Jesus the coming of the son of God, the Messiah, the Savior of the world, to be set FREE from the grips of sin, to ALL that believe in him (Jesus). His word says we are new creatures in Christ.

John 10:10* The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

2Corinthians 5:17* Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

John 3:36* He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

The majority of the population did not believe nor accept him, but after a few hundred years, the biggest part of the populous, adapted his word into the laws of the land and the ten commandments their main guideline.

You see, the bible is absolute, there are no wishy washy parts in it, (until all these NEW translations came out) there is no in between, the scripture says;

John 3:36* He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

John 14:6* Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

God does not change his mind, his word, his character or anything else. You can count on HIM and his written word (that MAN hasn't changed to supposedly better understand). The bible has to be interpreted by the Holy Spirit.

1Corinthians 2:13* Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

All man has to do, is ASK the Holy Spirit to open you're understanding as you read the bible. BUT people are to stubborn or to proud to ask, I don't know which. The last part of James verse 4:2 Says:

James 4:2* yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

The Lord has given each one of us a free will, and WILL NOT force us to behave or believe the truth, his word is truth. Over the last six decades, I have noticed that society as a whole, have turned their back to God. Years back, even those that were not Christians, were STILL God conscious. And now they detest the true God or anybody that does. Ungodly man screams for change, it don't matter what it is, if it worked for hundreds of years, it has to be changed. Look at the million plus laws that Canada alone has added to their books just over the last hundred years. All this is supposedly so MAN can understand better. IF they would read the bible and ASK God to open they're understanding, they would know the reason for climate change. YOU SEE, it is not God that is changing things, it is Satan and mans rejection of trusting him, his word and his promises.

God protected the just, and the unjust reaped the benefits of the just.

Matthew 5:45* That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

But when the majority turn their back on God, he, being the gentlemen he is, just steps back and says, "Do your own thing."

It is such a pleasure to have someone honor their word, and God has not altered his word nor his promises since the creation of the world, there is a literal Heaven and there is a literal Hell. IT DOESNT MATTER IF YOU DONT BELIEVE IT, it don't change Gods word.
